Ed Marasco Joins Quick Med Claims as Vice President of Business Development

Pittsburgh (January 29, 2009) — Quick Med Claims (QMC) proudly named Ed Marasco to the newly created position of Vice President of Business Development. An industry veteran with more than 25 years of experience in healthcare and medical transportation services, Marasco will target and develop new client relationships, enhance customer service, and provide strategic planning services.

In addition to his role in business development, Marasco will offer business consulting services to established and new medical transportation clients. QMC offers consultation in the areas of financial management, medical billing, marketing and outreach, and strategic planning. The QMC team is committed to providing business development support to its clients.

“Ed Marasco is a proven leader with a wealth of industry knowledge and a proven track record of creating successful client partnerships,” said Michael Lewis, President of Quick Med Claims. “His diverse experience will help us develop our professional services product line and expand our customer base. We are very happy to welcome Ed to the Quick Med Claims leadership team.”

Prior to joining QMC, Marasco served as Regional Vice President for Air Methods where he was responsible for the northeast region of the Hospital Based Services division. He joined Air Methods after the company’s acquisition of CJ Systems Aviation Group. While at CJ, Marasco oversaw all customer service, business development, clinical services, critical care diversified enterprises and critical care transport operations.

Active in the air medical services industry for more than 20 years, Marasco served on the Board of Directors of the STAT MedEvac Program and the Association of Air Medical Services (AAMS). He chaired the AAMS Finance and Reimbursement Committee and served as representative of the air medical services industry for the Negotiated Rulemaking process with the Health Care Financing Administration.

The air medical community honored Marasco in 2005 with the Marriott-Carlson Award for his individual overall contributions to medical transport. Additionally, Marasco is a board member of the Jefferson Regional Medical Center in Pittsburgh, and the Pittsburgh Emergency Medicine Foundation. He is the co-founder and vice president of the Cures for Kids Foundation which raises and donates money to a variety of children’s charities.

Marasco holds a Bachelor’s degree from the University of Pittsburgh and a Master’s degree from the H.J. Heinz III School of Public Policy and Management at Carnegie Mellon University.
